

Frisco Eddie's Revenge: The Return

A series by Balboa Ron Schweikert

(In last month's episode, after Eddie had lost the pro singles championship to Robby D, Lil had convinced him to go to the downstairs lounge at the Sands for a few drinks to help drown his disappointment. They were joined by a number of people and had more than a few. When Lil disappeared with Dick Moyer, Eddie followed them to a 12th room floor.)

Eddie was outside the door that led to the room which was sheltering his "mentor" (and his lover) Lil, and her "kissing cousin," Dick "the hat" Moyer. He had pondered several ways to get in that room, and finally made his decision.

He made his way to the end of the hallway, where there was a house phone. He got in touch with room service then, and ordered that a bottle of champagne be sent up to the room they were in. All he had to do now was wait until it showed up, and he could make his move.

It seemed like hours before the bellhop arrived on Floor 12. Eddie waited until he started to knock on the door before he walked in closer. There was a response from inside asking, "Who is it?" The hop replied: "This is the bellhop -- room service." "Wait a minute!" was the reply. It took a long time, but the door was then opened a crack. Eddie heard Dick ask: "Who the hell sent this?" of the bellhop.

Eddie made his move then. What was like almost all in one motion, he very quickly, with a wink and a smile, handed the bellhop $10, grabbed the bottle of champagne, and waved him off, got his foot in the doorway, and pushed back a very startled Dick!

He quietly said: "The drinks are on me, Hat Man. Where's Lil?" Dick was only wearing a pair of Levi cutoffs and, with an insidious, snickering look on his face, replied: "She's in the John right now, Hot Shot. Stick around a minute and you can join the party."

Eddie wanted to bash that snickering face of his so bad right then, but didn't want to make a commotion because he wanted to surprise Lil when she came out of the bathroom. Before anyone could say any more, the door began to open.

Eddie didn't believe what he saw then! Lil came out into the main room, and had a shocked look on her face after seeing Eddie standing there. She had nothing on -- but her black silk pant.....

Will this be the end of the relationship between Frisco Eddie and Long Beach Lil that started at the Blue Moon Lounge (where Lil convinced Eddie to go on the road with her) and lasted through many adventures across the country? Don't miss next month's issue to find out!
